

Helping you prepare for your team's return to the workplace

Workplace sanitisation

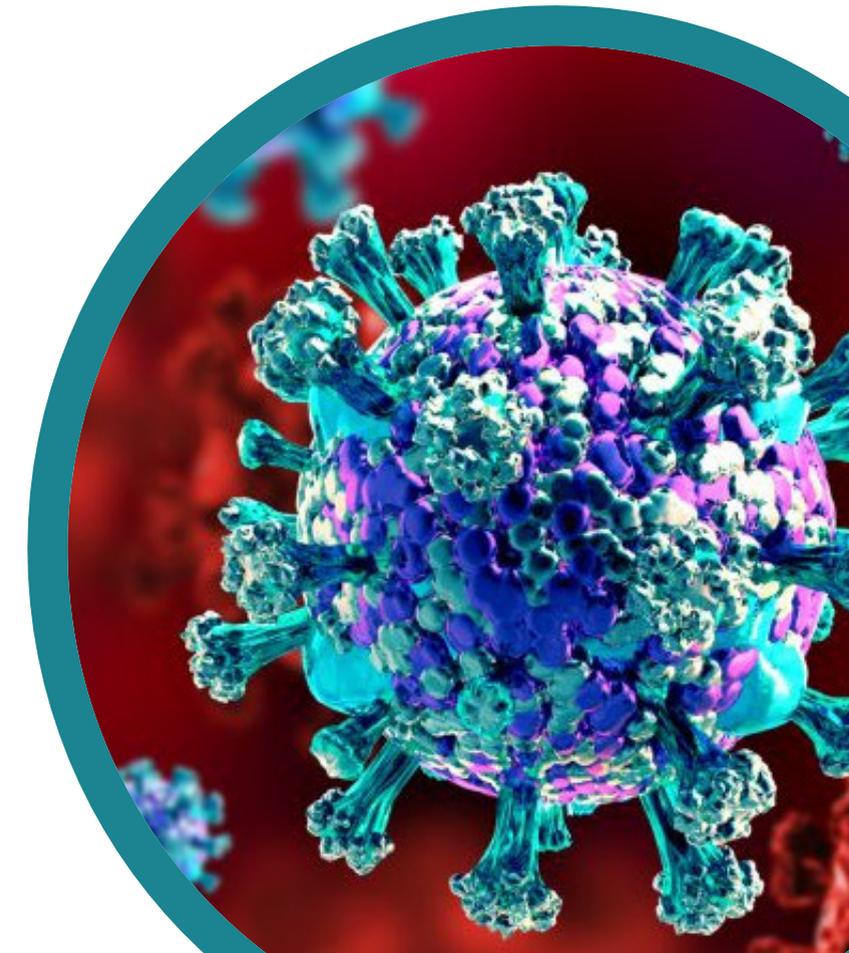

The world is changing – what about my workplace?

For so many of us, the face of the workplace has changed dramatically in a few short weeks.

Social distancing, working from home, increased emphasis on handwashing and many other requirements have become commonplace.

So when the time comes, what will 'returning to the workplace' mean for your business?

It will mean changes, whatever my workplace

- Hospitals and healthcare
- Schools and education
- Care homes
- Construction
- Offices
- Retail
- Manufacturing and distribution
- And so many more

OK, we may not run a hospital, but should I consider sanitising my workplace?

How does it work?

- Triple action – sanitises, deodorises and slows regrowth
- Contains no alcohol
- Contains no bleach
- Leaves no residue
- When required, rooms can be screened off, for example open plan kitchens, receptions, etc.
